Liked It Better Before. Edna wanted to go to the play with her mother, but was told she would not enjoy it. However, after much coaxing, she was allowed to go. When she returned her father asked her how she liked it. "Well, daddy," she replied, "I liked it a whole lot better before I went than I do now."

Chewing Gum. Much of the best chewing gum is said to be made from the gum of the chicle tree, found in Mexico. It was first introduced into the United States in 1870, and soon largely replaced other gum materials then in common use.

PLAN TO REBUILD THE RACE

Prominent Men of Great Britain Are Taking Measures to Repair the Tremendous Wastage of War.

With grim determination the English are preparing to set themselves to the task of rebuilding the British race after the war. The destruction of so much of the nation's young and robust manhood; the maiming of thousands on the field of battle; the hardships of the trenches and the privations at home have already cut deeply into the British family, and the end of the war is not yet in sight.

The upbuilding of strong and vigorous Britons—both men and women—after the war is not to be carried out through the application of eugenics and other carefully worked-out scientific methods. It is to be done in a coldly practical manner, with the co-operation of the government and the treatment is to be for the masses rather than the individual.

Among those who are getting this movement under way are the archbishop of Canterbury, the highest prelate of the Anglican church; Lord Rhonda, president of the local government board; Sir Malcolm Morris, one of the foremost physicians in the United Kingdom; former Premier Asquith, the lord mayor of London, Sir James Crich-ton-Browne; Sir John Barlow and the bishop of Birmingham.

Among the plans under consideration are the encouraging of youthful marriages; a crusade to eliminate social diseases; general laws to safeguard the health of men and women workers and the protection of children, and the restriction of emigration. A suggestion has also been made to tax bachelors. Before the war it was estimated there were 1,000,000 more women than men in the United Kingdom and the proportion has been greatly increased during the war.

LOST A GOAT

"Funny thing about Duncan's goat eatin' ther dynamite." "How's that? I ain't heard!" "Ain't ye? It's all over town."

"GREAT BABYLON" OF TODAY.

Few people would recognize Babylon, under its modern title of Hilla, the small town on the Euphrates some sixty-five miles almost due south of Bagdad. And yet, so it is shown today on the maps, and so does the Arab know it and speak of it, as he passes through its narrow streets or makes his way toward it from the plain, past those gigantic mounds which are all that is left, today, of "Great Babylon."

HE GETS HIS.

"Does the world owe you a living?" "Oh, no—I collect mine!" "How?" "Why, I'm a bank president."

NO HURRY.

Plumber (at telephone)—Yes'm—I'll be there in ten minutes—never mind the address now—I'll get that when you telephone again.

IN BIRDVILLE.

Quacker—Great Scott, Bill, what's the stunt? Pelican—Oh, I just dropped in to get a bill changed.

REASONS FOR IT.

"That friend of yours is very polished." "Yes; you see, he has rubbed up against the best people."

A BIRD OF AN EXCUSE.

Robin—Yesh, m'dear, I know what time it ish. Bin up all the morning looking for that worm, but—hic—he relased on me.

RECOMPENSE.

As the orator stepped upon the balcony, a friend spoke to him. "It's raining, senator. I fear you'll have a small crowd." "There's one good thing about rain," responded the senator. "There may be a small crowd but the umbrellas make it look about four times as big as it really is."

ONE CONTRIBUTION.

Knicker—"What can you do to serve the country?" Bocker—"Well, I can keep out of the way of people who can do something."

WHERE THE FAULT LAY.

Hubby—"Isn't your skirt outrageously short?" Wifey—"No, indeed; it is just that the floor doesn't come up any higher."

DOUBT BREED OF FAMILIARITY.

"Is that novel Penfield just had published a good one?" "It must be. His friends won't believe he wrote it."

THE CONTRARY.

"Many characters are lost in these investigations." "Oh, no, not lost; they're discovered."

PROOF.

"Hubby, do you love me?" "Why, certainly, my dear. Just refer to the letters I wrote you during our courtship days."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Notice, Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received by the fiscal court of Christian county until 12 o'clock noon, July 3rd, to build one and four-tenths of a mile of macadam road beginning at end of pike on Butler road and extending to Honey Grove.

A certified check for $100.00 must accompany each bid. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Plans and specifications can be seen at office of Road Engineer, Hopkinsville, Ky.

THE VOQUE FOR GARDENING.

"Are you going to take summer boarders?" "Not this year," answered Farmer Cornsmeal. "I don't propose to let city folks off that easy. I'm going to take 'em as pupils in agriculture and make 'em pay for the opportunity to do some farmin'."

UNPOPULAR.

"Nobody in the neighborhood likes them." "Why?" "Their children can lick all the other children around here."

PRACTICAL.

Bummer—Do you believe in reincarnation, Bill? Bill Bumble—Yes, if there's any honey in the carnation.

GOOD NEWS.

"My dear, our landlord says he's going to raise our rent." "Glad to hear he can do it. I can't."—Puck.

OH, FUDGE!

"That horse seems pretty wild." "He is. I call him Niagara." "Why?" "Because he's hard to harness."

Under Perpetual Cloud. There are people who, through constitution mental or physical, have let themselves fall into the worrying habit, so that life is under a perpetual cloud. They are always expecting the worst things to happen; they indulge in positive orgies of evil anticipation. One might even say they luxuriate in it, to the detriment of their own activities, the destruction of their peace, the annoyance of their friends. So far as they cannot help this, they are to be pitied; but very often they can help it, or at least could have helped it before they allowed the habit to take possession of them.—Exchange.

Waste No Food

Food Waste of About 700 Million Dollars.

"For partial immediate relief, every individual and community should consider earnestly the matter of food conservation and the limitation of waste. As a Nation we seem to have a disdain of economizing. In many homes there is a strong feeling that it is 'only decent' to provide more than will be eaten and that it is demeaning to reckon closely. The experts of the Department of Agriculture report to me that the dietary studies made by them point to an annual food waste of about $700,000,000. Of course, the waste in families of very limited means is slight, but in the families of moderate and ample means the waste is considerable. Even if the estimate were reduced by half, the waste would still be enormous.

"The food waste in the household, the experts assert, results in large measure from bad preparation and bad cooking, from improper care and handling, and, in well-to-do families, from serving an undue number of courses and an over-abundant supply and failing to save and utilize the food not consumed. As an instance of improper handling, it is discovered that in the preparation of potatoes 20 per cent of the edible portion in many cases is discarded."—SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, March 3, 1917.

Food is Wasted

- (a) When we eat more food than our bodies need for growth and repair and to supply energy for our work. Overeating tends to poor health and fat instead of brawn, makes us sluggish and indolent instead of energetic and resourceful. Eat enough and no more. Eat for physical and mental efficiency.
- (b) When food is burned or spoiled in cooking. Improperly prepared or poorly seasoned food will be left on the table and probably wasted. Buy food wisely and then prepare it carefully.
- (c) When too much food is prepared for a meal. Unserved portions are apt to be thrown into the garbage pail or allowed to spoil. Many housekeepers do not know how to use left-over foods to make appetizing dishes.

(d) When too much food is served at a meal. Uneaten portions are left on the plate and later thrown into the garbage pail. Learn to know the needs of your family, and serve each no more than you think he will want.

(e) When anything edible is allowed to go to the garbage pail or allowed to spoil for lack of proper handling.

(f) When food is handled carelessly! Buy clean food, keep it clean until used, be neat in all details of cooking and serving. This lessens waste and is a valuable health measure as well.

Feed Your Own Family First

Don't feed high-priced human food to hogs or chickens. Don't send valuable food to the incinerator or the fertilizer heap. Don't pour into the sewer nourishing food in the shape of milk, skim milk, sweet or sour soup, gravy, or melted fat, or water in which cereals or vegetables have been cooked. Keep good food out of your garbage pail and kitchen sink.
